General Business

Daniel and Matthew Cowin, Cowin Construction, gave a drone presentation to the Commissioners. The drone would fly around and get exact measurements and pictures on County buildings for insurance claims and bids. This service could save the County money through the years. Presiding Commissioner Bryan Hall asked Cowin Construction to e-mail all the information to the Commission so they could look into it further.

Erin Engelmeyer, Field Representative for U.S. Senator Josh Hawley, met with the Commission to hear any concerns or issues McDonald County may have. Sam Helm was present and stated his concerns about the sludge situation. Presiding Commissioner Bryan Hall said the Commission had not gained a lot of ground yet, but the State of Missouri has been brought in on the situation. Sam stated he had talked to Representative Dirk Deaton and was told there should be a letter sent out by the end of the week to Denali. Another concern was that roads were being destroyed with all the semi-truck traffic traveling the roads so many times per day. Ms. Engelmeyer wants to be kept updated on this issue. She also went over some things her and Senator Hawley have been doing.

Commission conducted general business of the county.
