General Business

The full scope of the project cost will be submitted to FEMA directors for approval to move forward with the Dead End Lane project under the Disaster Leadership initiative. Commissioners reviewed the road and bridge budget to identify any projects that could be completed within the current fiscal year. They also continued discussions on preliminary plans for the upcoming Cycling Event scheduled for October 18th, noting that efforts are underway to have the organizing group submit their application along with the required $500 fee. Additionally, commissioners compiled a list of roads they plan to visit for on-site review on Wednesday, September 17th.
